

Dr. Leslie Green-Pimentel

Associate Director of the CCED

Assistant Professor of Community Development in the Division of Social Sciences and History

Education Background

- Ph.D. in Housing and Consumer Economics from the University of Georgia, College of Family and Consumer Sciences, Department of Housing and Consumer Economics
- M.S. in Consumer Sciences from Utah State University, College of Education, Department of Family, Consumer, and Human Development
- B.S. in Consumer Sciences and an Emphasis in Family Finance from Utah State University, College of Education, Department of Family, Consumer and Human Development.
- Accredited financial counselor (AFC) through the Association for Financial Counseling and Planning Education (AFCPE)

Professional Interests

Dr. Green-Pimentel enjoys helping individuals improve their economic well-being through increased financial literacy and knowledge of how to utilize available resources. She spent time at the Utah State University Family Life Center in the housing and financial counseling services division conducting one on one counseling sessions and workshops for both large and small audiences on personal finance related topics. She also acted as the Interim Assistant Director for a brief time. Her research interests include mortgage debt among older adults, Foreclosure, Mortgage default counseling, Homebuyer education and counseling, Financial literacy, and Financial therapy.