COURSE TEXT

Repko, Allen F. (2012). Interdisciplinary Research: Process and Theory, 2nd ed. Los Angeles: Sage.

ISBN: 978-1-4129-8877-3

A copy of the text is available at the Reserve Desk of the Roberts-LaForge Library so that students can complete assignments until their copy arrives or is purchased.

Additional Materials

You need a web camera and headset to participate fully in the online course.

Computing Requirements

To access the online components of this course you should have--or have regular access to--an Internet-connected, multimedia-class computer that uses an up-to date web browser with the usual plug-ins and players. You need a web camera and headset to participate fully in the online course.

Description

Applications of interdisciplinary thought and research. Students will use concepts and methods learned in previous BIS courses to explore issues in their chosen areas of emphasis. May involve individual or group projects combining concentrations. Over the course of the semester, students will develop a proposal for their Capstone Project (BIS 410).

SPECIFIC LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

- apply various research methods to issues within or contingent to their areas of concentration
- investigate and evaluate products, theses, research projects in order to understand variety of possibilities for Capstone Project
- demonstrate critical and analytical skills in developing a viable proposal for the Capstone Project, identifying in the process useful sources, resources, and applicable research in the field
- articulate and present a workable proposal for their Capstone Project

EVALUATION AND GRADING

Quizzes, Exploratory Papers, Paper Conference	20%
Discussions	20%
Capstone Project Proposal	20%
Research Map	20%
Revised and Expanded Capstone Project Proposal	20%

Assignment Descriptions

Quizzes

Quizzes will be based on course content, readings and the syllabus. Some assignments will be counted in the quiz grades (Exploratory Readings; Q&A Assignment; VoiceThread Introduction Video Commenting; VoiceThread Introduction Creation; and the Paper Conference)

Exploratory Readings

Audience: Write for yourself as well as the instructor.

Main point and purpose: To answer basic questions about the chapter, pinpointing difficulties in reading comprehension before delving deeper into the chapter's contents.

Pattern and procedures: Answer the questions in the assignment box in full, grammatically correct sentences.

Standards and criteria:

Category	2	0
Question 1	You've answered the question correctly and in a full, grammatically correct sentence.	You've answered the question incorrectly and/or the answer is not in a full sentence.
Question 2	You've answered the question correctly and in a full, grammatically correct sentence.	You've answered the question incorrectly and/or the answer is not in a full sentence.
Question 3	You've answered the question correctly and in a full, grammatically correct sentence.	You've answered the question incorrectly and/or the answer is not in a full sentence.
Question 4	You've answered the question correctly and in a full, grammatically correct sentence.	You've answered the question incorrectly and/or the answer is not in a full sentence.
Question 5	You've answered the question correctly and in a	You've answered the question incorrectly and/or full, grammatically correct sentence.	the answer is not in a full sentence.

VoiceThread Introduction Video Commenting

Audience: Your classmates and your instructor.

Main point and purpose: To learn how to comment on VoiceThreads.

Pattern and procedures: Watch the introduction and comment on at least two of the slides. One comment should be a video comment and one should be an audio comment. You are very welcome to comment on more than two slides and on classmates' comments.

Standards and criteria:

Criteria	Complete 2	Incomplete 0
You have made a video comment on one of the slide's in my introduction VoiceThread.
You have made an audio comment on one of the slide's in my introduction VoiceThread.
Comment quality – the audio and webcam comments were fully audible and visible.

Q & A Assignment

Audience: Your classmates and your instructor.

Main point and purpose: To learn how to use the Q&A section in the course.

Pattern and procedures: After reading the syllabus, course orientation and reviewing the technology we'll be using in the course, ask a question about something you want clarification on. Answer a classmate's question. You are very welcome to ask more than one question and answer more than one classmate's questions.

Standards and criteria:

Criteria	2	0
You asked a question about the syllabus, course navigation, or technology we are using in this course.	Yes	No
You answered a classmate's question.	Yes	No

You asked a question at least 48 hours before the due date.	Yes	No
You answered a question at least 24 hours before the assignment was due.	Yes	No

VoiceThread Introduction Creation

Audience: The instructor and your classmates.

Main point and purpose: To learn how to create a VoiceThread.

Pattern and procedures: Using my VoiceThread Introduction as a model, create a VoiceThread to introduce yourself to the class. Make sure you have a mix of video and audio comments, upload some photos and find and upload a video on YouTube that reflects one of your interests.

Standards and criteria:

Criteria	Complete 2	Incomplete 0
Your comments are predominantly audio or video	The majority of your comments are either audio or video.	The majority of your comments are text comments.
Slide content is relevant and appropriate	Images, documents, movies or audio files demonstrate consideration.	Images, documents, movies or audio files are of poor quality or not appropriate.
Comment quality	Your comments are audible and visible.	Your comments are not audible or visible.
Mastery of basic VoiceThread features	You created a complex VoiceThread based on my VoiceThread introduction model.	You did not create a complex VoiceThread introduction based on my VoiceThread introduction model.

Paper Conference

Audience: You and the instructor

Main Point and Purpose: The pre-conference is to discuss the upcoming paper that you will submit. You should be able to demonstrate that you have worked on the paper. You can also ask questions about the paper.

Pattern and Procedure: Arrange a meeting time with your instructor. If you are in town or on campus, the meeting can be face-to-face. Otherwise conferences will be conducted through Zoom.

Standards and Criteria:

Criteria	3	2	1
Appointment	You arrived/joined conference on time	You were late.	You missed the conference.

Conference	You had a copy of the complete paper with you and were ready to discuss it and ask questions	You had a detailed outline of the paper.	You had not thought about or prepared for the conference or Capstone Project Proposal.

Discussions

Audience: Your classmates and the instructor.

Main point and purpose: The discussions are designed to engage your thinking about the readings, course content and related concepts. It is also an opportunity to interact with your classmates.

Pattern and procedures: In the appropriate VoiceThread (each discussion will be linked to a specific VoiceThread), post a video (preferred) or audio (accepted) comment. Limit yourself to one minute for your comments and responses. Type or write a script so that you stay on track when you post and respond but also in case you run into technical difficulties and have to redo your post or response. Discussion comments should be courteous, thoughtful, and carefully formulated. WARNING - merely agreeing with a classmate's post is not a response.

Standards and criteria:

Criteria	2	1	0
Content Quality	You've clearly and concisely posted a thoughtful analysis of the discussion topic.	You've posted a somewhat thoughtful analysis of the discussion topic but it is somewhat unclear and you ramble a bit.	Your post is not thoughtful, off topic, or unclear, and it is either too long or too short.
Responses to Classmates	You've left feedback that is constructive and thoughtful. Your responses add to the discussion.	You've left feedback that is mostly constructive and thoughtful.	Your feedback is not constructive or thoughtful.
Comment Quantity	You've commented on at least three classmates' posts.	You've commented on at two classmates' posts.	You haven't commented on classmates' posts.
Technology Quality	Your video is well lit and viewers can clearly see your face. Your audio is 100% audible.	Your video is a little unclear. Your audio is not 100% audible.	Your video and/or audio is distorted, missing, unclear or inaudible.
Timeliness	You post a comment at least 24 hours before the	You post a comment at least 12 hours before the	You do not comment until shortly before the comment is due. You respond to your classmates throughout the week.	comment is due. You respond to your classmates at least 24 hours before responses are due.	posts are due and you do not respond to classmates until shortly before the responses are due. You haven't posted a comment or a response.

Capstone Project Proposal

Audience: The audience is very broad - peers, community, instructor, academic community, prospective employers and/or professional schools. Keep in mind that the audience is not an expert in the disciplines used in Capstone Project.

Main point and purpose: What research question/problem are you seeking to answer and/or solve and what steps need to be taken to make progress toward answering or solving the question/problem?

Pattern and procedures: Build on your initial Capstone Project Proposal from BIS 310 and in a minimum of 1250 words (minus title page and Resources) identify your research question/problem, justify an interdisciplinary approach, identify ALL relevant disciplines (not just your concentrations) and a practical element. The final copy must be attached as a file (docx, doc or odt format).

Standards and criteria:

Criteria	3	2	1
Problem or research question defined and is complex	Your research question/problem is very complex and requires insights from more than 3 disciplines	Your research question/problem somewhat complex	Your research question/problem is not at all complex (can be answered yes or no)
Interdisciplinary approach justified	You have clearly justified an interdisciplinary approach with concrete examples	You have only somewhat justified an interdisciplinary approach	You have not justified an interdisciplinary approach
Relevant disciplines identified	You have identified ALL relevant disciplines; that is you have drawn from a wide variety of disciplines, subdisciplines and interdisciplines in addition to your concentrations.	You have identified MOST relevant disciplines; that is you have drawn from a variety of disciplines, subdisciplines and interdisciplines in addition to your concentrations.	You have not identified enough relevant disciplines or none.

Practical element	You have a clear, doable, refreshing and unique practical element that integrates a wide variety of disciplines and extends beyond your concentrations.	Your practical element is vague and only includes some relevant disciplines.	Your practical element is not doable or identified.
Resources listed in APA or MLA format	You have used APA/MLA citation style correctly and consistently without any errors.	You have used APA/MLA citation style somewhat correctly and consistently but with a number of errors.	You have not used APA/MLA citation style not correctly, consistently or at all.
Editing: Grammar, mechanics, and transitions	Your paper is free of grammatical errors and typographical errors and is well-edited.	Your paper has a few major grammatical errors or typographical errors.	Your paper includes many major grammatical errors or typographical errors, making it difficult to follow your argument.
Entire paper	You are on your way to a truly integrative interdisciplinary project which is more than 1250 words but less than 3000 words and encapsulates the entire project (IRP steps 1-3, research, methods, and practical element at the very least).	You are on your way to a somewhat interdisciplinary project which meets the 1250-word minimum and somewhat includes all elements (IRP steps 1-3, research, methods, and practical element at the very least) of the entire project.	You have not met the 1250-word minimum and/or you have not included the necessary elements.

Research Map

Audience: The audience is very broad - peers, community, instructor, academic community, prospective employers and/or professional schools.

Main Point and Purpose: To visualize and organize the research problem or question.

Pattern and Procedures: Create a research map. You can use an element of Google Docs or a mind mapping software like Coggle (<https://coggle.it/>), Bubbl (<https://bubbl.us/>), MindMup (<https://www.mindmup.com/>) or Edraw (<https://www.edrawsoft.com/freemind.php>). Refer to pages 149-150 of the text for the key components of a Research Map. Upload/attach the map into the assignment box.

Standards and Criteria:

Criteria	3	2	1
Key components of a research map	You have included all key components and added more.	You have included all key components.	You have only included a few key components.
Organization	You have laid out the map well so that it is easy to read and follow.	You have laid out the map so that it is most easy to read and follow.	You have not laid out the map well and it is not easy to read or follow.
Colors, Patterns, Images	Your choice of colors, patterns, and images enhances the readability.	Your choice of colors, patterns, and images support readability.	Your choice of colors, patterns, and images distract from readability.
Editing: Grammar, mechanics, and spelling	You have edited the map very well and there are no errors.	You have edited the map but there are some errors.	You have not edited the map and there are many errors.

Revised and Expanded Capstone Project Proposal

Audience: The audience is very broad - peers, community, instructor, academic community, prospective employers and/or professional schools. Keep in mind that the audience is not an expert in the disciplines used in Capstone Project.

Main point and purpose: To refine your previously stated research question/problem.

Pattern and procedures: Revise (based on your continued research and my feedback) and build on your Capstone Project Proposal in a minimum of 2500 words (minus title page and Resources). Identify your research question/problem, justify an interdisciplinary approach, identify ALL relevant disciplines (not just your concentrations), include the analysis of the research problem/question with the appropriate theories, discuss which test you will use to test whether or work is interdisciplinary and a practical element. The final copy must be attached as a file (docx, doc or odt format).

Standards and criteria:

Criteria	3	2	1
Problem or research question defined and is complex	Your research question/problem is very complex and requires insights from more than 3 disciplines	Your research question/problem somewhat complex	Your research question/problem is not at all complex (can be answered yes or no)

Relevant disciplines identified	You have identified ALL relevant disciplines; that is you have drawn from a wide variety of disciplines, subdisciplines and interdisciplines in addition to your concentrations.	You have identified MOST relevant disciplines; that is you have drawn from a variety of disciplines, subdisciplines and interdisciplines in addition to your concentrations.	You have not identified enough relevant disciplines or none.
Practical element	You have a clear, doable, refreshing and unique practical element that integrates a wide variety of disciplines and extends beyond your concentrations.	Your practical element is vague and only includes some relevant disciplines.	Your practical element is not doable or identified.
Identify a test from pages 418-425 that you will use to test your entire project for interdisciplinarity	You have selected an appropriate test and can explain how and why the test is appropriate.	You have selected an appropriate test.	You have not selected an appropriate test.
Resources listed in APA or MLA format	You have used APA/MLA citation style correctly and consistently without any errors.	You have used APA/MLA citation style somewhat correctly and consistently but with a number of errors.	You have not used APA/MLA citation style not correctly, consistently or at all.
Editing: Grammar, mechanics, and transitions	Your paper is free of grammatical errors and typographical errors and is well-edited. Grading System

Letter		Quality Points		Description
A	= 90-100	4	=	Excellent
B	= 80-89	3	=	Good
C	= 70-79	2	=	Satisfactory
D	= 60-69	1	=	Poor
F	= below 60	0	=	Failure

The letter "I" (incomplete) may be awarded when, for reasons beyond a student's control, the course requirements cannot be completed during the enrollment period. "I" grades carry no quality points; the hours are included in calculation of the quality point average. An "I" must be removed within a period of twelve months. This twelve month requirement does not apply to theses, dissertations, and other research or practicum courses, which can award the grade of IP (in progress).

Attendance and Participation

Regular and punctual attendance at all scheduled online classes and activities is expected of all students and is regarded as integral to course credit. Attendance shall be taken at each online class meeting.

A student will be considered to be in attendance in an online class when the individual 1) participates in online discussion about academic matters; or 2) initiates contact with faculty to ask questions about subject studies; or 3) completes assignments; or 4) takes tests. Logging into an online course without active participation does not constitute attendance.

The last date of attendance will be the date the student last logged into the course and met one of the four criteria above.

Each student is directly responsible to the individual professor for absences and for making up work missed. Particular policies and procedures on absences and make-up work are established for each class, and are announced in writing at the beginning of the term. Each student is directly responsible to the individual professor for absences and for making up work missed. A student with active participation less than 75% will be dropped and receive a grade of F in the class.

Instructor Policies

No make-up quizzes or extra-credit work if you miss any assignments or your grade is low. Only work missed for excused absences can be made up.

Missed, incomplete, late assignments or those that do not follow the assignment instructions automatically receive a zero.

Power outages, computer or drive failures, lack of access to computers, or assignments not loading, etc. are not excuses to miss or hand in assignments late. The Roberts-LaForge Library has a computer lab and most public libraries have computers available for patrons. If you have problems loading assignments or with Canvas contact the Helpdesk (see below for numbers).

TECHNOLOGY ISSUES

The Office of Information Technology (OIT) provides 24/7 technical support for all campus Canvas users. Students may contact OIT for technical assistance several ways. If you experience technical difficulties or need technical assistance with this course, contact OIT's 24-hour Help Desk via email at helpdesk@deltastate.edu. Or you may contact them by phone at 662-846-4444 or 866-264-1465 (toll-free). Please include the course name and your 900# when contacting the Help Desk.

Additional information concerning technical assistance can be found by clicking the Help button on the course Home Page.

ACADEMIC HONESTY POLICY POLICY STATEMENT

Delta State University expects all students to adhere to the highest moral academic standards.

DEFINITIONS

Cheating – taking credit for work which has been completed by another person, or assisting others in the misrepresentation of their academic work.

Plagiarism – the appropriation of ideas, facts, phrases, or additional materials from any source without giving proper credit or offering appropriate documentation.

PROCEDURES and RESPONSIBILITIES

Delta State University expects all students to adhere to the highest moral academic standards. Unethical and dishonest behavior will not be tolerated and could invoke severe penalties. Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, cheating, plagiarism, fabrication, falsification, forgery, and/or any misuse of university documents whether academic or administrative, tampering with any admission requirement documents to gain entrance into the university under a false pretense, selling or distributing written or oral information, and stealing, buying, or selling any administrative or academic document.

Cheating – taking credit for work which has been completed by another person, or assisting others in the misrepresentation of their academic work. Examples include, but are not limited to the following:

- taking answers from another student's paper or allowing answers to be taken from one's own paper during an examination or quiz;
- the use of notes or any other aid not specifically allowed or approved by the instructor;
- unauthorized access to an un-administered examination or quiz and dissemination of the same;
- collaboration on take-home examinations unless specifically approved by the instructor;
- receiving editorial assistance on a course assignment beyond that expressly allowed by the instructor;
- collaborating with another person in the preparation of any assignment offered for credit when such collaboration is prohibited by the instructor; and
- submitting the same work for credit in more than one course, regardless of whether or not such submission occurs within the same term. An exception may be granted if the student receives written permission in advance from his/her instructor(s).

Plagiarism – the appropriation of ideas, facts, phrases, or additional materials (such as maps, charts, artwork, or computer programs) from any source without giving proper credit or offering appropriate documentation. Any material in a paper, report, artwork, or computer program which is not acknowledged is understood to be the original work of the author, unless the material is considered general knowledge. Students who are unsure whether they have used and documented source material correctly should consult with their instructor prior to submission of the assignment.

PENALTIES FOR DISHONESTY

If it is believed that an academic honesty violation has occurred, the instructor should schedule a conference with the student to present the violation and evidence. If, following the consultation, the faculty member still believes the student has committed an act of academic dishonesty, the faculty member may recommend an appropriate sanction, such as a grade of zero on the test, examination, or paper in question, retake of a test or examination, extra work, failure in the course, or a combination of these sanctions. The faculty member shall inform the student of the recommended sanction. The faculty member then shall submit a written report of the matter (including Cheating/Plagiarism Document) to the department/division chair, the dean of the school/college in which the course was offered, and, if different, the student's academic dean, and the Provost, with a copy to the student. In the case of a graduate student, the dean of the Graduate Studies shall be given a copy. This notification will remain confidential in compliance with policies protecting student privacy.

Multiple violations will be the purview of the Academic Honesty Committee. This committee may recommend additional and/or combined sanctions, up to and including suspension or dismissal from the university. The Academic Honesty Committee shall report to the Provost/VPAA. If the recommended sanction is dismissal, the provost shall inform the president, and the president shall direct the registrar to inform the student of the recommendation of the dismissal. In each case, copies of the notification of a recommended sanction shall be sent by the registrar to the faculty member, the department/division chair, the dean of the school or college in which the course was offered, and if different, the student's academic dean.

STUDENT APPEAL OF RECOMMENDED SANCTION

The student may appeal the sanction(s) recommended by a faculty member by following the appeal process established in the Academic Grievance Policy already in place, available in the Delta State University Undergraduate and Graduate Bulletins (archived on the Academic Affairs web page) and in the Policies Manual (archived at </pages/2457.asp>).

The student may appeal the sanction(s) recommended by the Academic Honesty Committee to the Provost/VPAA.

CIVILITY ONLINE/NETIQUETTE:

Email etiquette

- Before sending an email about the course, check the Q&A section. You may find the answer there.
- Use the course email for anything to do with the course.
- Make sure you have a subject line – something that gives me an idea what you are contacting me about.
- Use proper grammar and spelling.
- Don't use all caps.
- Include your 900#.
- If you have problems uploading an assignment, contact the Helpdesk (click the Help button in Canvas), not me.

Netiquette for Our Online Discussions

- We will use VoiceThread for our discussions and therefore not type but it is still important to use proper grammar and speak loudly and clearly.
- Before you make a post or response, write a short script to keep you on track that way you can avoid miscommunication. Make sure to justify your opinion with evidence (depending on the discussion topic it may be from the textbook or it could be from another source). Avoid generic statements that have no substance – “I agree with you.”
- Listen to other students' comments before you add your response so that you don't repeat what others have said.
- Be respectful in posts and if someone is being insulting, please report them to the me.

ADA STATEMENT and REFERENCE TO COUNSELING CENTER FOR DISABILITIES

Delta State University complies with all applicable laws regarding affirmative action and equal opportunity in all its activities and programs and does not discriminate against anyone protected by law because of a disability. The University makes provisions to accommodate all disabled persons.

For assistance and to make arrangements for accommodation for disabilities, please contact Dr. Richard Houston, at the Reilly Health Center, 846-4690. It is the responsibility of students who have professionally diagnosed disabilities to notify the instructor and present documentation in a timely manner so that necessary and/or appropriate modifications can be made to meet any special learning needs.
