BIS 300: Introduction to Interdisciplinary Studies

CRN

Fall 45313/Spring 16065

Credits

3 credit hours

Prerequisites

None

Description

This course is an introduction to the concepts and methods of interdisciplinary study through critical examination of anticipated workplace and civic trends in the global environment. Using a multicultural focus, we will look at ethics and decision-making in contemporary society. Emphasis is placed on development of critical and analytical thinking skills, as well as written and oral communication. Key ethical questions will be addressed from a variety of perspectives both past and present as a basis for informed decision-making.

University Mission

As a regional Carnegie Master's I university located in Cleveland, Mississippi, Delta State University serves as an educational and cultural center for the Mississippi Delta, emphasizing service to the Northern Delta counties and its campus centers in Clarksdale and Greenville.

The University offers undergraduate, graduate and continuing education programs of study leading to baccalaureate and master's degrees in the Colleges of Arts and Sciences, Business, Education, and the School of Nursing, as well as a Doctorate in Education. Emphasis is placed on excellence in instruction, followed by service and research, in the creation of a community of scholars. With special attention to small classes, a friendly environment, and a broad liberal arts foundation, the University encourages significant student-faculty interactions. Delta State provides programs and services that promote intellectual, cultural, ethical, physical, and social development. Students from different cultural, socioeconomic, and ethnic backgrounds will develop the ability to respect and evaluate the thoughts of others; to develop, assess, and express their own thoughts effectively; and to use the techniques of research and performance associated with their disciplines.

Course Objectives

Goals

Students taking this course will:

- Students will identify current ethical challenges in science, education, business, government, and in their various communities;
- Students will study ethical concerns (and interactive effects) at the individual, group, community, nation, society, and global levels;
- Students will develop an awareness of personal values, the diversity of values held by others, and the process of moral/ethical inquiry and decision-making;
- Students will develop critical thinking skills by bringing multiple perspectives to bear on particular ethical dilemmas and issues and by using reflection, logic, evidence, and well-chosen examples to support positions or arguments
- Students will enhance their speaking and writing skills in exploring ethical issues, making decisions, and presenting conclusions to others. Students will also demonstrate effective oral communication skills in a variety of personal and professional situations, both formal and informal, using the appropriate technology;
- Students will gain an appreciation of the diverse perspectives of the disciplines represented in classroom enrollment and /or reading assignments, and of the ways in which they complement and/or contradict one another;
- Students will develop the ability to synthesize the perspectives of the various disciplines represented;
- Students will gain an appreciation of culturally-diverse perspectives by comparing and contrasting beliefs and practices.

Outcomes

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

- articulate what interdisciplinary studies are and are not
- articulate their traits and skills as an interdisciplinarian
- integrate various disciplines
- critique journal articles that take an interdisciplinary approach to a problem

Grading System

I use the following grading system:

Letter		Quality Points		Description
А	= 90-100	4	Π	Excellent
В	= 80-89	3	Ш	Good
С	= 70-79	2	=	Satisfactory
D	= 60-69	1	=	Poor
F	= below 60	0	Π	Failure

The letter "I" (incomplete) may be awarded when, for reasons beyond a student's control, the course requirements cannot be completed during the enrollment period. "I" grades carry no quality points; the hours are included in calculation of the quality point average. An "I" must be removed by the next full semester. This twelve month requirement does not apply to theses, dissertations, and other research or practicum courses, which can award the grade of IP (in progress).

Grading Methodology and Opportunities

If appropriate, leadership roles and related activities are indicated.	Included additional section with relevant information, and minimal flaws; skills or activities may not be properly defined.	Additional section is missing key information. Included additional section, but information is weak or irrelevant. Additional sections are missing.

Instructor Policies

No make-up quizzes or extra-credit work if you miss any assignments or your grade is low.

Missed, incomplete, late assignments or those that do not follow the assignment instructions automatically receive a zero.

Canvas Course Management System

It is the student's responsibility to configure his/her computer to fully take advantage of Canvas. For instructions follow the guidelines on the opening page of Canvas. If the student is experiencing difficulties with the course management system, he/she must contact Canvas to resolve the issues. Issues with Canvas are not an excuse to hand in assignments late. The Canvas Helpdesk number is x4444 (on-campus), 662.846.4444 (local) and 1.866.264.1465 (toll free) and the email address is helpdesk@deltastate.edu.

Academic Policies

Students should familiarize themselves with university policies, and particularly those that govern academics and student affairs at Delta State. The policies that are likely to affect students in this course are listed below.

Attendance and Participation

Delta State University maintains standards for class attendance and absence. Students are responsible for adhering to the policy. Students must attend a minimum of 75 percent of all scheduled classes and activities.

Students taking fully online courses or online courses with minimized face-to-face meeting times or residencies will not attend a physical class regularly or at all. However, online students are required to check the course site regularly, participating in the daily work of the course. At a minimum, students should log in twice a week. Students demonstrating little or no activity within the first three weeks of the course may be dropped from the course as a No Show. Additionally, students who do not actively participate in class through discussions/forums and assignments will be "cut out" after three weeks of non-consecutive inactivity or missed activity

Absences and Excuses

Each student is directly responsible to the individual instructor for absences and for make-up work missed. For additional information on absences generally excused by the university, consult the official policy statement in the university policy manual.

Cheating and Plagiarism

Cheating and plagiarism are not tolerated. If it is established that a violation has occurred, instructors may determine the penalty, and should report the offense to the division/department chair, the student's advisor, the dean, and the Office of Academic Affairs. The usual minimum penalty involves a grade of zero (0) on the test, examination, or paper in question. A second offense by any student will be reviewed for more stringent action and will usually result in suspension. Any additional offenses will usually result in expulsion from the university.

Graduate students who cheat or plagiarize will receive a grade of zero (0) for the assignment and may receive a grade of "F" in the course. Instructors report the offense to the division/department chair, the student's advisor and/or program coordinator, the Graduate Office and the Office of Academic Affairs. A second offense by any student will result in dismissal from the university. Plagiarism in a Delta State University graduate thesis/dissertation will result in denial or removal of the degree, and the person will be denied admission to or be expelled from subsequent degree programs at Delta State University.

Abuse of Computers and Network Systems

All members of the Delta State University community must use electronic communications in a responsible manner. The university may restrict the use of its computers and network systems for electronic communications, in response to complaints presenting evidence of violations of other university policies or codes, or state or federal laws. Specifically, the university reserves the right to limit access to its networks through university-owned or other computers, and to remove or limit access to material posted on university-owned computers. The university reserves the right to limit access to its networks through university-owned or other computers, and to remove or limit access to its networks through university-owned or other computers, and to remove or limit access to its networks through university-owned or other computers, and to remove or limit access to its networks through university-owned or other computers, and to remove or limit access to material posted on university-owned computers.

Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA)

Delta State University is committed to a policy of equal employment and educational opportunity. Delta State University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, disability, or veteran status. This policy extends to all programs and activities supported by the University. Contact the ADA Officer in the Counseling Center at the O.W. Reily Student Health Center for more information or accommodation.

College Identification

All full-time and part-time students enrolled in six or more hours are given a combination identification-activity card, also known as the Okra Kard, bearing their photograph and student identification number. These cards are important because they will identify a student when borrowing books from the library, making purchases in the bookstore, purchasing a parking decal, cashing authorized checks, gaining admittance to food services, meal plan tracking, a pre-paid debit account and all student activities and athletic events. The identification card has a monetary value because it is a prepaid ticket to all athletic events (other than GSC and NCAA tournaments where Delta State is a host site) and many social events.

Students on campus must carry their identification card at all times and produce them when requested by members of the University staff. These cards are not transferable. Students are liable for disciplinary action for misuse of identification-activity cards, for altering them in any way, for loaning them to another person, or for failing to have the card on his or her person when it is requested by a member of the university staff.

Required Texts

Repko, Allen F. (2012). Interdisciplinary Research: Process and Theory, 2nd ed. Los Angeles: Sage.

A copy of the text is available at the Reserve Desk of the Roberts-LaForge Library so that students can complete assignments until their copy arrives or is purchased.

Recommended Texts

A good dictionary and thesaurus.

Note: Students are encouraged to make textbook purchases at the DSU Bookstore in the H.L. Nowell Union Building on campus or online.

Additional Materials

Computing Requirements

To access the online component of this course you should have--or have regular access to--an Internet-connected, multimedia-class computer that uses an up-to date web browser with the usual plug-ins and players.
