

Biology Interview Questions

- Describe your own strengths, particularly those strengths that will help you to excel in this field.
- What classroom experiences do you feel have best prepared you for a career in Biology?
- You mention a number of career related skills on your resume. Tell me what you know about:
- What experiences have you had related to research?
- What qualities do you have that make you an effective researcher?
- What do you know about the company?
- Aside from classroom texts and experimentation, what journals or professional articles are you currently reading for professional development?
- You have prepared a report for the organization's advisory board. All the facts included in the report have been documented, checked, and double-checked. However, one of the supervisors states that the report is incorrect and demands that you make the correction. What is your response?
- Give me a specific example of a time when you used good judgment and logic in solving a problem.
- Who created the two-part naming system used in biology?
- What is an organ that belongs to more than one organ system?
- How does the odor of flower petals help pollination?
- What are the complementary base-pairing rules for biology?