DMI doings... Celebrities spotted!

If you find yourself wandering the halls of the Delta Music Institute (DMI) in the near future, you’d better come prepared with your best celebrity autograph book as director Tricia Walker continues to attract and deliver the best in the business.

Most recently, DMI celebrated its Preview Party & Luncheon, with special guests, the Carlis and the Peareys highlighting the icebreaker. During the morning reception, Viking Range Corporation and Delta Music Institute’s founder Fred Carlis presented a vintage Peavey electric guitar with a Viking Range scene painted on the front. The instrument was hand painted with oils by Delta State University Dean of the College of Arts & Sciences Collier Parker. Pickard and Carlis, Collier Parker, Mary Peavey, Fred Carlis, Margaret Carlis, and Hurley Peavey, Founder and CEO of Peavey, one of the largest, most diversified, independently owned suppliers of musical instruments and professional sound equipment in the world.

DMI is also gearing up to host its inaugural summer camp, Sunday, July 15 through Saturday, July 21. The camp will explore three exciting music career tracks to encourage talented young musicians to follow their passion. Workshops, lectures and hands-on instruction will help encourage musical creativity in a residential camp setting.

Get ready, the artist lineup will highlight proven Mark Mark for 15 years.
