Hearin Fellowship Scholars Program

The Hearin Scholars program provides funding to graduate students interested in the following graduate programs: Community Development, Master of Business Administration, and Master of Counselor Education. A focus for these Hearin Scholars will be on graduate research. This is a cohort program of 10 graduate students, who will do research with faculty members under the guidance of Dr. John Green and Dr. Albert Nylander.

Requirements

- Bachelors degree in area related to community and economic development, business or counseling.
- Minimum GPA of 3.25 will be given preference.
- Graduate School application
- An official undergraduate transcript
- A 500 word essay on career goals
- The name, title, address, and phone number of at least two references
- A resume

Total Funding:

- $100,000 to support Hearin Scholars in its Master of Science in Community Development, Master of Business Administration, and Master of Education in Counseling Graduate Programs
- Funding divided into an educational expense of $5,000 per year for tuition and a living stipend of $5,000 each for 10 months.

What's Expected?

Recipients will be expected to engage in real-world learning opportunities and produce a final report. Scholars will meet monthly with Dr. John Green, director of the Institute for Community-Based Research, to discuss their research activities. There will be a final research project and presentation at the end of the semester.
