

11th Writing across the Curriculum Conference
Coastal Georgia Center
Savannah, Georgia
7-9 June 2012

Each concurrent session at WAC 2012 lasts 75 minutes, allowing 60 minutes for presentations and 15 minutes for discussion. Conference chairs Randall McClure, Michael Pemberton, and Janice Walker welcome proposals for engaging, interactive sessions:

20-minute individual presentations
60-minute poster presentations
60-minute multi-presenter panels
3-hour pre-conference workshops (to be held Thursday morning)

In addition to proposals for presentations, panels, and workshops that respond to the conference theme, topics may include the following: administration, assessment, curriculum, economics, faculty development, history of WAC, interdisciplinary collaboration, student learning, politics, research, school/college collaboration, sustainability, teaching, technology, theory, writing, and other forms of communicating across the disciplines. We particularly encourage collaborative projects among contributors from varied disciplines.

Individual presentations will be grouped by shared topic, and a session chair will be assigned; all multi-presenter proposals should identify a session chair among the presenters.

CLARIFICATION: Individual proposals (or separate presentations on multi-presenter panels) should include a short, one- or two-sentence description of the presentation along with a 250-word abstract. If an entire panel is being proposed, a separate 100-200-word abstract of the entire session should be included as well. (Panels with multiple presenters but no distinct, individual presentations need only provide a 250-word description of the entire panel.)

Only one submission is allowed per individual/group, so please plan ahead and edit your text in advance before submitting it by the deadline date of November 1, 2011.
