

Jennifer Sills is in her twenty-first year of teaching, and fifth year as a band director in the Madison County School District. For the four years prior to teaching at Madison Central High School, she coordinated the Madison Middle School band program. She taught at Bayou View Middle School in Gulfport, Stone High School, Clinton High School, and Forest Hill High School. Programs under her direction have consistently received superior ratings in concert and sight-reading in Mississippi, Georgia, Texas and Louisiana.

Jennifer graduated from Yazoo City High School in Yazoo City, Mississippi in 1993. She attended Hinds Community College and then transferred to Delta State University where she received her Bachelors Degree in Music Education in 1998. She received her Masters degree from William Carey University in Educational Leadership in 2017. Her professional affiliations include Phi Beta Mu National Band Fraternity, the American School Band Directors Association, Mississippi Bandmasters Association, and the Mississippi Professional Educators Association. She is a National Board Certified Teacher and a member of the Mississippi Teacher Council. She was awarded the “Middle School Band Director of the Year” in 2013 by the Gulf Coast Band Directors’ Association. In 2018, she served as Concert Director for the Mississippi Lions All-State Band and was on the staff as the band traveled to Las Vegas, Nevada to compete in the Lions International Parade.

She is the proud mother of twins, Kaitlyn and Peyton, who will be graduating from Madison Central High School this year.
